UCD International Foundation Year No

Why is this course for me?

With improvements in technology, travel and communications, the business world has become smaller. The BComm International combines the foundation of business and management teachings with international languages.

Its outlook is global, with the focus on innovation, corporate citizenship and international business. UCD Quinn School BComm International students gain an understanding of the global business environment and real-life experiences with international cultures.

You'll spend your third year abroad in one of our partner institutions. As Ireland's number one business school, our international reputation means our partner universities are highly regarded destinations for your study.

What will I study?

In your first semester you'll study two languages, choosing from Chinese, French, German, Italian or Spanish. [A Spanish/German combination in first year may be subject to change.] With the exception of French, you have the option to study these languages from beginner level. Towards the end of this semester you'll select one language to pursue to degree level [as a minor].

During the first two years, you'll also receive a firm foundation in core business disciplines and language modules. Examples include:

First Year

Accounting • Economics • Maths & Statistics • Organisational Behaviour • Business in Society • Language & Culture/Literature modules

Second Year

Managerial Accounting • Marketing • Human Resources & Industrial Relations • Management Theory • Finance • Information & Communications Technology • Language & Culture/Literature modules

Third and Fourth Years

When studying abroad in third year you'll have two options:

The Modern Languages Route: You'll attend one of our partner international universities or business schools, where you'll continue your studies in the host language [except for Chinese, where you'll study the Chinese language, along with business modules through English]. In fourth year you continue studying business and your chosen language subjects at UCD.

The Global Business Route: You'll study through English at one of our international partner universities or business schools before returning to UCD in fourth year, where you'll focus on studying business and intercultural skills, with no language.

In final year you can specialise in a particular business discipline [such as Accountancy, Management, Marketing, Banking and Finance, MIS or HRM] or study a mix of business subjects.

Students attend lectures, tutorials and seminars, and undertake group and individual presentations, project work and independent study. Projects include case studies, business simulations, presentations and web development.

Assessment is through a combination of continuous assessment and end-of-semester exams.

Career & Graduate Study Opportunities

BComm International graduates find employment in the private, public and not-for-profit or NGO sectors, or set up their own companies. Many different career paths are available, and students who can combine an international language with a business qualification are highly employable graduates for multinational companies.

Anita Pesci
STUDENT

I chose the Bachelor of Commerce International thanks to the exciting combination of business and language subjects and the opportunity to spend an academic year abroad. Students of this course not only develop practical business skills but also acquire a good knowledge of a foreign language. I really enjoyed the wide range of interesting modules offered by the UCD Lochlann Quinn School of Business that allowed me to strengthen my teamwork and presentation skills; the various student activities on campus further enriched my university experience. I also had a great time during my Erasmus year abroad in Rome, where I had the chance to meet people from all over the world and to travel around Italy. I believe that this course gave me the essential skills and competencies to build a career in the global business world.
